

JAMES B. BITTMAN

Senior Instructor
The Options Institute

Mr. Bittman is the author of two books, Options for the Stock Investor , (McGraw-Hill, 1996), and Trading Index Options (McGraw-Hill, 1998). At The Options Institute, he teaches courses for public investors, brokers and institutional money managers. He has also presented custom classes all over the world.

In 1980 Mr. Bittman began his trading career as an equity options market maker at the Chicago Board Options Exchange. From 1983 to 1993, he was a Commodity Options Member of the Chicago Board of Trade where he traded options on financial futures and agricultural futures.

In addition to his responsibilities at The Options Institute, Mr. Bittman teaches in the masters level Financial Markets and Trading Program at The Illinois Institute of Technology. He received a BA from Amherst College and an MBA from Harvard University.